

Full Life Toolkit

A comprehensive evidence-based approach to promoting the socio-economic case for later living schemes.

Supporting your later living development and demonstrating the positive influence on the planning process, specialists in our Economics and Planning teams can help you:

Evidence a local need based on changing demographics in an area

Prove a deficient supply to make clear that a specific need remains unmet

Demonstrate health benefits for prospective residents and benefits to the NHS

Quantify economic impacts relating to jobs, expenditure and the public purse

Show knock-on effects where family housing is released into the market
