

Carbon Literacy training

What is Carbon Literacy?

'An awareness of the carbon dioxide costs and impacts of everyday activities, and the ability and motivation to reduce emissions, on an individual, community and organisational basis.'^{*}

Carbon Literacy is the main goal of The Carbon Literacy Project who are a globally unique organisation focussed on helping everyone do their bit to tackle climate change.

How can Turley help?

We can develop a bespoke Carbon Literacy training course for your organisation. Working with The Carbon Literacy Project we will undertake the accreditation process to deliver training direct to you, which is specifically tailored for businesses across the real estate value chain.

The benefits:

-  Staff well-being
-  Workplace learning
-  Competitiveness

 Empowering us all to play our role in tackling climate change
